

Dear Friends,

“Ninety percent of women said they would not choose abortion if the man in their life was supportive of their pregnancy.” That is the statistic our Life Banquet speaker, Steve Arterburn, gave after sharing his story about being the man who did not support his girlfriend’s pregnancy, ultimately causing her to obtain an abortion. So if men fulfilled their role of protector and provider, abortion could be reduced by 90% even without a change in the law.

Knowing that, is it any wonder the devil attacks authentic masculinity with such vengeance? Abortion is not just a woman’s issue...it is equally and possibly more a man’s issue as their influence is critical. Real men respect, protect and provide. I am grateful to be married to a real man, and at The Women’s Center we are supported by many good men from the priests who offer Mass to the Knights of Columbus who volunteer and fundraise to the many individual men who support us with financial means and share their time in driving, lifting, fixing, painting and much, much more.

We need and love men! If you have a good man in your life, please let him know how proud you are of him. His example helps form other good men.

With the need for good men in mind, we have chosen St. Joseph to be the patron of our new office. The Board of Directors has voted to expand our reach to women contemplating abortion by adding a fourth office. Please keep this intention in your prayers as we evaluate and select the next best location.

Working to save Moms and babies from abortion is a heavy responsibility and also a mission with no greater joy than sharing in the victory of a heart converted and a life saved. In this battle, you and I are on the winning side and to stay there we need your ongoing support. Thank you in advance for your generosity!

In the Love of Jesus, Lord of Life, and Mary, Mother of All,
